WorkWork X64

1. Set-up Projects and Tasks: The project/task organizer allows you to be organized by projects, tasks, and types. Enter projects and tasks by dragging and dropping them. They are then moved into project/task groups. 2. Choose Time Range: You can manage projects and tasks at different times of the day. 3. Start Timers: You can create timer events to monitor your time. Start a timer and set its activation time. 4. Close Timer: If you get done with your project or task before the timer is activated, you can close it without an interference from your work. 5. Report Builder: The report builder allows you to see how much time you spent on each project and task. 6. Choose Languages: You can add additional languages if desired, such as English, German, French, etc. 7. Time Finder: The time finder shows you how much time you spent on a project or task. 8. Save Settings: Every configuration made can be saved. WorkWork is a smart and convenient way of keeping track of the time you spend on a task. Its simple and easy to use. The instructions guide you through a rather comprehensive setup. You will have to create several projects, tasks, and additional groups, such as For a homework, Do a cleaning, etc. At the end you will be able to see a calendar widget that lists your project/task groups and the time spent on it. Unfortunately, there isn't anything built in to interact with your calendar on a mobile device. Of course, you can always download the app onto your computer and then sync the data. The problem is that this method will not work for all Android devices. A mobile app is required for full functionality. While the desktop version does support Android and Apple devices, the mobile version doesn't. No desktop version for Windows Phone. Overall, WorkWork makes it easy to monitor the time you spend on a project or task and to record these in the calendar. This can help you prepare for deadlines or make sure you don't forget to do something. The app doesn't offer you a lot more options than what you can do in your calendar. It's not difficult to figure out, and if you do get used to it, you can get a lot of work done efficiently. Version Review The mobile app version is no longer available. The desktop version still
