help me! I really appreciate it! I was able to figure it out myself.
It's amazing how well you guys think through my questions and attempt to answer them. Thanks a lot! Q: How do I delete all the rows from my t-sql select? I have the following select statement: SELECT top 100 * FROM tblTempTable Now I want to delete all the rows in this select statement (in addition to the select) so that it looks like this: SELECT top 100 * FROM tblTempTable

DROP TABLE tblTempTable This does not seem to work. A: Using a little more than your 'original' code, you can do this:
declare @tblTempTable as tblTempTable delete @tblTempTable select top 100 * from @tblTempTable This works because when you drop the table, tblTempTable is empty. This isn't a pretty way of doing this though - but it works. A: I was able to do this by using: 4bc0debe42
