BACK I think the difference between my eyes and the majority of my readers is that I am not a fat girl. I am a homely, awkward, goofy, Jewish girl with big glasses and painfully large feet. I have soft, fat, large hands and my nose is always bigger than it should be. I've tried every diet under the sun, from Atkins to veganism. I have tried to lose all the weight, gain all the weight, and gain even more and lost more. With every diet, I am usually starving, starving, then I find myself eating more and more, and more, and then the food bombs out and I eat more and more again. At this point, I become a veritable anchor (not a buoy, as I've been told by many "experts") of guilt and self-deprecation. And then, 570a42141b
